FULL-STACK WEB DEVELOPER
Liquidfish - Oklahoma City, OK

I've gained valuable development experience as a Full-Stack Developer with a focus on building sizable websites and web applications using Laravel and Vue under a LEMP environment. I'm one of many developers also responsible for maintenance and troubleshooting client websites. The following is what normally keeps me busy:

- Developed and deployed various types of websites and CMS-Driven web applications.
- I took a unique interest and passion in front-end development especially with Vue, JavaScript and CSS animations. I get the most gratification out of building beautiful front-end layouts and making them move smoothly.
- Began to learn the basics of dot net core in order to assist the development of front-end on some client projects.
- Mostly worked solo on client projects however would love to work on a team.
- Developed complete web layouts based off Sketch designs.
- Worked closely with Project Managers to properly craft accurate quotes for future client projects.
